

Laws of Aligned Relatedness

Positive Aligned Relatedness

A connected group of like-minded people that come together for a central commonality, interest, hobby, friendship or belief and the byproduct of their collectiveness produces something beneficial to the greater community or people within the community.

Neutral Aligned Relatedness

A connected group of like-minded people that come together for a central commonality, interest, hobby, friendship or belief and their togetherness does not produce any outcome that extends past their inclusive group.

Negative Aligned Relatedness

A connected group of like-minded people that come together for a central commonality, interest, hobby, friendship or belief and the byproduct of their collectiveness produces something detrimental to the community or members within that community.

